U. S. SENATOR M'CORMICK IS FOUND DEAD!

EVANS MEET AT CITY HALL ON FRIDAY

Citizens Unite in Move to Name Glendale Man For Congress

Great interest is being displayed in the meeting to be held next Friday night at the city hall when, at 7:30 o'clock, loyal Republicans and patriotic citizens of Glendale plan to form an "Evans For Congress Club."

Glendale is going to see to it that W. E. Evans, one of its own citizens and a leader in Republican councils, is the Republican nominee, in the ninth district, for Congress.

In fact, the movement is spreading and, it is understood, Burbank is getting behind the proposal to nominate Mr. Evans and plans to have a large delegation at the meeting next Friday night at the Glendale city hall.

Prominent citizens who issued the call for the gathering announce that all who are interested in seeing to it that Glendale has a representative in Congress are invited to be present.

Movement Grows

Glendale, it is pointed out, has a wonderful opportunity to name the next congressman. In fact, other communities in the San Fernando valley realize the importance of the move, to secure the services of Mr. Evans and are preparing to join with Glendale in securing his nomination.

The proposal to name Mr. Evans is of vital importance to Glendale and that is why every loyal Republican is joining the movement. And, too, that is why 100 per cent Glendale citizens, irrespective of party affiliations are endorsing him.

Glendale is practically unanimous for the candidacy of Mr Evans; the movement is spreading through the valley; Republican leaders in other sections of the ninth district are announcing they are for Mr. Evans and, in brief, it appears a certainty that he will be the Republican nominee and, of course, the next congressman.

So the meeting next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Glendale city hall is of the greatest importance to the community, for there will be started the organization that will, it now seems certain, be the means of naming the next congressman from the ninth district, W. E. Evans of Glendale, a friend and supporter of President Coolidge and a leader in the Republican party.

Illinois To Make Wives Pay Alimony With Men

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 25.—More absolute interpretation of the nineteenth amendment to the Illinois state constitution which grants women equality with men was in the making here today in the form of a state bill providing for the payment of alimony by wives to their divorced husbands. The bill, carefully drawn, asks that courts take into cognizance that many women, particularly actresses, have professions which provide them with as much or more income than their husbands receive. Three-fourths of the state's representatives who will eventually pass on the measure are women.

LEGISLATURE SETTLES TO BUSINESS

Lawmakers Expect Briefest Half Session In All State's History

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—The second half of the forty-sixth session of the California Legislature was expected to get down to business today following convening of both Houses yesterday for what leaders declare will prove to be one of the shortest half-sessions in state history.

The same is true of Senator H. C. Jones' Senate judiciary committee, and with other reports from committees running true to form the Legislature has gotten down to business.

Numerous new bills are being presented, each member having the right to introduce two during the last half of the session. Senator Newton M. Allen has one to raise the salary of all state employes receiving less than $2000 annually, by giving them a dollar a day more. He believes that the clerks, stenographers and others are unable to support themselves properly on their present pay.

Bond Issue Up

Senator Roy Fellom believes Senator E. S. "Tex" Hurley stole his thunder when he suggested a $50,000,000 highway bond issue yesterday. The latter will present his message in the form of a constitutional amendment for the purpose of completing trunk highways.

Fellom wanted $55,000,000 which seems to be the only difference in their ideas of the fitness of things. He introduced a skeleton bill in the first half of the session.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST BANK SEEKING SITE FOR BIG STRUCTURE

Makes Offer to Glendale Savings Bank For Location; Fine Office Building To Be Erected If Deal Completed

Negotiations are under way for the absorption of the Glendale Savings bank, at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, by the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank system, according to reliable information, emanating from Los Angeles financial circles. The move is understood to contemplate erection of a seven-story building on the corner and removal to that location of the Brand boulevard branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank, now located at 104-106 North Brand boulevard.

D. H. Smith, vice-president and manager of this branch, is well known in Glendale as a banker and as president of the Chamber of Commerce. W. S. Perrin, president of the Glendale Savings bank, is regarded as one of the most able and experienced savings bank men in Southern California. His bank deals in savings accounts only, carrying no commercial department. The institution has been at its present location for many years and is well established. At the last call it showed deposits totaling $888,811.90.

The Glendale Savings bank enjoys a solid reputation and need not, it is pointed out in financial circles, enter into any business deal unless it proves highly beneficial to its stockholders and its financial future.

Bank of Italy Also Seeks Business Site

It is also learned from reliable sources in financial circles in Los Angeles that the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank is not the only large Southern California banking institution that has been negotiating with the Glendale Savings bank. It is stated on good authority that the Bank of Italy has also made overtures to Mr. Perrin.

Since the Security Trust & Savings bank erected a six-story and basement building at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, over a year ago, large banking interests have been active in their efforts to obtain one of the other three corners of this leading Glendale intersection for a bank site.

Those in close touch with the situation declare that the negotiations between the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank and the Glendale Savings bank have reached a point where a definite announcement will soon be made.

Immediately after that Amador's attorney said the famous comedian would be called to the witness stand tomorrow for cross-examination.

END COMES TO G. O. P. SOLON SUDDENLY IN HOTEL

Gastric Hemorrhage Is Said To Have Been Cause; Senate in Adjournment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—United States Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, one of the Republican leaders of the Senate, died suddenly today at his hotel here from what physicians described as a "gastric hemorrhage."

He was found dead in bed at 10 o'clock by hotel employes, who went to his room and broke down the door after telephone rings for McCormick went unanswered. McCormick was 48 years old and had served in the Senate since 1918.

Physicians said McCormick had been dead about an hour when the body was discovered at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. McCormick is en route here from Chicago, having accompanied Mrs. Nicholas Longworth there when the latter's baby was born.

Found Dead in Bed

Senator McCormick was up and around shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, but after that did not answer several phone calls which came for him. Unable to secure any answer, W. H. Barse, the hotel manager, went to McCormick's room about 9:45 o'clock and opened the door. He found Senator McCormick undressed and in bed, apparently dead.

Barse immediately called in Dr. Noble Barnes, who reported that Senator McCormick had died of gastric hemorrhage. Barse then notified McCormick's secretary and several of his friends and colleagues, including Representative Nicholas Longworth, who immediately came to the hotel.

Senate Adjourns

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, one of McCormick's closest friends, was advised that the discovery of the body was brought about by William Hard, a newspaper correspondent, who called at the hotel to keep an appointment with McCormick.

Formally advised of McCormick's death by his colleague, Senator McKinley, the Senate adopted resolutions of regret and adjourned for the day.

Rumors that McCormick might have taken his own life were dispelled when it was announced that the district coroner was prepared to issue a certificate of death from natural causes.

Senator McCormick was born in Chicago, May 16, 1877, the son of Robert S. and Katherine Medill

CIVIC AFFAIRS INTERESTING MEMBERS

Pass Resolution Thanking Donors of Brand Park; Fight Tree Action

Indicative of the active interest in civic affairs was the unanimous action taken by Tuesday Afternoon club members yesterday to send a letter of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand for their recent gift of a park to the city of Glendale; and passing a resolution against the removal of the trees on Glendale avenue. The letter and the resolution were presented by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, acting chairman of the civics committee.

Activities of the club yesterday began with a luncheon at noon. Presiding with the president, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, were Mrs. Roy Ballagh, curator of fine arts, and Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, chairman of international relations.

Mrs. Ballagh presented Miss Leta Horlocker, chairman of art for Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, who gave an inspirational talk on "Art in the Home." She stressed the fact that art appreciation should be instilled in the individual in his childhood training.

Urges World Peace

The speaker introduced by Mrs. Ferguson was James Mussatti of the history department of the local high school. Declaring that in the 2000 years of the Christian era there had been but sixty-five years of peace, Mr. Mussatti made eloquent plea for an "international public opinion that will make war impossible."

Another speaker of the luncheon hour and again in the afternoon was Mrs. R. W. Meeker, a member of the club, and chairman of the Redwood Memorial Grove fund for the Los Angeles district. She told of the California Federation's ambition to raise funds to save the grove of Redwoods at Dyerville Flats. Following her talk in the afternoon it was announced that the Tuesday Afternoon club had given $100 to the fund.

Community singing at luncheon and in the afternoon was led by R. Ernest Tucker with Mrs. Roberta T. Young as accompanist.

Mrs. Montgomery presided in the afternoon. In recognition of "Better Speech Week" she read "My English Creed." During the meeting the club company stood in tribute to the memory of Mrs. Frank Hester, club member, who died during the past week.

Others taking part in the meeting were Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, chairman of ways and means, who stated that she and her committee have secured $5,600 for the club treasury since the first of the club year; Mrs. John Robert White, jr., chairman of endowment, who spoke on behalf of that cause; and Mrs. Daniel Campbell as federation secretary, who gave a report of the recent district council.

A truly artistic program was the feature of the afternoon. Presenting the romantic atmosphere of the days of the padres and the dons Miss Nellie Fernandza, dancer and singer, and David Martinez, singer, both Castilian and recently from Spain, were the entertaining artists. Music for them was furnished by a Mexican orchestra. These two clever artists were discovered recently in Los Angeles by the program chairman of the Friday Morning club. After seeing them at that club, Mrs. F. H. Wallace, program chairman for the Tuesday Afternoon club, secured them for an engagement here.

RESIDENTS EXPRESS CHOICE FOR OFFICES

Large Number of Votes Received Daily From Citizens Naming Possible Candidates for Councilmen

As the time draws nearer for the filing of petitions of candidates for city councilmen, the residents of Glendale are showing more interest in the municipal election to be held April 14, when five councilmen, in addition to several other city and school officials, will be chosen.

Glendalians find in the nomination blank which appears daily in The Glendale Evening News an opportunity to state whom they would like to see become candidates, and name persons they believe are fit for the position. This method has become popular, as it affords the only chance for expressions by the people.

The number of votes continue to grow larger and larger each day. Another name, that of Mrs. M. L. Tight, of 510 North Glendale avenue, is added to the list today, as Mrs. Tight has received more than twenty-five votes as a possible candidate for councilwoman. Several others are fast approaching the twenty-five mark, while new nominations are being made daily.

Blank Appears Daily

Each day there appears in this newspaper a blank form on which Glendale residents are invited to write the names of citizens who they believe are fitted for service on the City Council. Five candidates are to be elected next April.

When any person nominated receives fifty or more nominations, his or her picture and a brief biography will be published in The Glendale Evening News.

Five nominations is the limit any one person is permitted to make. Names of all persons nominated will be published when twenty-five or more votes have been received by any candidate.

The nomination blank appears on page two of today's Glendale Evening News. Make use of it at once and mail it to Nomination Editor, 139 South Brand, Glendale, California.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Young men seeking careers in the professions will do well to listen to an attorney who gave up that profession to become a realtor.

"There are too many lawyers, a sufficiency of doctors, more than enough real estate dealers, school teachers out of work, but . . .

"There are too few dentists."

Now this may not apply to Glendale, although if you should try to get an appointment for dental work the chances are your "date" would be two weeks or more away!

Some communities have practically no dental surgeons. Many dentists have to depend on laboratories hundreds of miles away for technical work. And the American public has just begun to realize the value of dentistry.

Good teeth have a great deal to do with good health.

More dentists are needed in the nation.

Trained electricians—men who actually KNOW their business—also are in demand. Statisticians, analysts and those versed in the executive branches of business and government have many opportunities today. The only reason there is not an oversupply in these particular fields, the writer believes, is the lack of training facilities.

Of course, there are schools aplenty teaching these subjects, but parents and philanthropists do not think of them as they do of the law and medicine. And students seeing the perilous course which confronts them after graduation from colleges do not take readily to training which means years of hard work.

Another and more serious shortage not in the professions will be found on the farms in the next generation. Already it is noticeable. Aliens who qualify as tillers of the soil are preferred immigrants. But it is pointed out by officials that few "farmers" from foreign countries get to the land. They tarry in the cities.

Yet farming is profitable. It is an avocation for the man who desires an independent life, if he be wealthy; it offers a field for the young fellow who wants to WORK to establish a fortune; and it is likely the only place in America where family life is happy.

Farm homes seldom are broken: farm children seldom are liabilities in the way of sickness and disgrace; farm meals are not skimped, nor does the food come from cans the year 'round.

This generation has produced too many salesmen. The success of a few in salesmanship has turned the heads of the many who think they can sell.

Also, we have too many lawyers, for the youth, looking at the prominence of the few successful barristers, believes it is the profession that holds the pathway to political and financial leadership.

Fact is, the successful salesman, or lawyer, would be equally as successful had he turned his efforts toward dentistry, statistical work, research or farming.

It is the MAN and NOT the job that counts.

BRITISH TRADE AND DOLLAR ASCENDING

Pound Sterling's Rise Is Credited With Jump In Business

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—British trade hopes are in the ascendant, as the pound sterling approaches the dollar in parity. The sudden rise in the value of the pound during the first few days of the year have given rise to predictions of a world trade revival. The Federation of British Industries, after a careful inquiry, predicts that a world trade revival is on the way.

The government department of Overseas Trade predicts that "we should see a strong improvement in all overseas markets."

All sorts of 'Pollyanna" statements about British trade are being made, many of them perhaps inspired by political reasons. Lord Beaverbrook's organs have resumed the publication of optimistic trade stories, a series which was rudely interrupted when a sudden election was called last autumn.

Over-Statements

While many of the statements are perhaps over-statements, it is indeed a fact that British trade is in a better position today than it has been for some time, but it is hardly out of the woods yet. This would seem to be proven by the fact that there is still an army of well over a million of unemployed. Then, too, there is the question of protection.

The Baldwin government is dallying with a tariff scheme. If they definitely decide to lay down such a project, its effects upon trade will be problematical, but the preponderance of opinion seems to be that it would not help trade greatly, if indeed it did not injure trade.

Great Britain's trade is slowly coming back, however, as is evidenced by the fact that during 1924 the exports increased by more than a billion dollars over the 1923 exports. Coal shipments from South Wales are more than 90 per cent above the shipments of last spring.

Shipping Is Busy

Some quarters estimate that hardly more than 2 per cent of the entire British mercantile fleet is now idle. Freights have increased on many routes and it is expected that there will be further increases during the early winter months.

Industrials upon the London Stock Exchange are gradually increasing in value. Breweries and tobacco firms have had successful years, some of them declaring dividends as high as 50 per cent.

Altogether the signs are promising. The Dawes report has given confidence. Europe seems nearer peace than it has been for many years. The external conditions are perhaps not so favorable. There are domestic matters which may prove obstacles—such as unemployment and over-population, to say nothing of the difficulty of regaining markets lost during the war.

President's Radio Message Planned For Receipt at Elementary Schools

The children of the ten elementary and two intermediate schools of Glendale will hear President Calvin Coolidge's inaugural address broadcast next Wednesday, March 4, if it is possible to arrange with local radio dealers for receiving sets to be installed at each of the schoolhouses.

This was indicated last night in an authorization given by the Board of Education to John T. Pate, business manager of the city schools, to make arrangements to this effect, if possible. The meeting was held at board headquarters, 107½ South Brand boulevard, Mrs. A. A. Barton, president, presiding. All the members of the board, with the exception of Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, were present.

A telegram was read from Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, who is attending the annual convention of the National Education association, department of superintendence, Cleveland, Ohio. The message stated:

"Enjoying splendid program. Home end next week."

Brown to Speak

The telegram was read by Miss Annie L. McIntyre, assistant superintendent, who is taking Mr. White's place during his absence. Miss McIntyre also read a letter from Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, wherein the ruling was laid down that public schools are not to be used for collecting money for any purpose whatever, no matter whether or not for a worthy cause.

Evangelist John E. Brown was authorized to address the pupils of the Glendale and Wilson Intermediate schools. Miss Ruth Williams was appointed in charge of the night classes at the Magnolia school and Miss Edith Tyler was appointed in charge of the night classes at the Grand View school. PLANNING BOARD DENIES PETITION

Tyler Street Residents Are Refused Permission To Change Name

The City Planning commission last night denied the application of Tyler street property owners to change the name of a portion of this street to South Sycamore Canyon road. The reason given was that a proposal to change all of Sycamore Canyon road to Chevy Chase drive is now before the City Council, and that it would be wise to wait and then change Tyler street to South Chevy Chase drive, if the proposal carries. The meeting was held at the City Hall, Chairman T. W. Watson presiding.

A delegation from the Lake street district appeared before the commission, requesting that no action be taken toward industrializing any of this territory until after the members have made a personal survey of the territory. This was agreed to and the delegation was promised that a trip through the Lake street district will be made by the City Planning commission in the near future.

BROWN TAKES 'NEGLECT' AS SUBJECT

Evangelist Tells Audience To Join Church If They Would Be Saved

Brown Program

The program of Evangelist John Brown for tonight and tomorrow follows:

Wednesday night — 7:30 o'clock, "God's Call to Glendale."

Thursday morning — 10 o'clock, Mr. Brown will continue his discussion of "The Spirit Filled Life."

Thursday night—7:30 o'clock, school and young people's night. Middle section reserved.

Preaching to another capacity audience at the Union tabernacle on North Kenwood street, last night, Evangelist John Brown repeatedly hurled at his hearers the challenge that neglect is the greatest tragedy the world has ever known. He declared that the sins of omission overshadow the sins of commission, and unless the people cease to neglect their duty to God, their end is a terrible tragedy.

"The Tragedies of Neglect" was the subject of the evangelist's sermon and for his scripture lesson he read part of the second chapter of Hebrews, beginning with the first verse. For his text Mr. Brown took part of the third verse, "If We Neglect."

"Do you know that statistics show us that the great majority of persons that come to Christ, come before they are 20 years of age; that between the age of 20 and 25 only one out of every 100; from 25 to 40 only one out of 1000; and from 40 to 60 only one out of every 10,000? If we neglect! Men and women, you had better not neglect!" the evangelist shouted.

No Escape

"The question is not how shall we escape if we do, but how shall we escape if we do not.' Mr. Brown said the liar, the murderer, the gambler, the drunkard, the desecrator of the Sabbath may escape, but for the person who neglects Christ there is no escape.

Mr. Brown said the church stands above every other institution in the world, that it stands as the light of the world, and that joining the church means a mansized job. He said the reason some people are of no account is because they join too many organizations, and while not condemning any organizations, he pleaded with his hearers to put the church first. "The best way to kill a preacher is to boost him on the street and give him plenty of encouragement on the outside and then not go to church," the speaker declared.

Neglect of the home, the evangelist classed as a sin next to neglect of church. He said one of the greatest crimes in America today is the neglect of the home. "The old-fashioned Christian home is fast dying out," he added.

"You neglect your home; you neglect your family altar, and they fall to the ground. Heaven knows it's a tragedy. O, you parents, get back to your homes. If we neglect the church it's gone. If we neglect the home, it's also gone."

SEEK OPINIONS ON REDUCED CAR FARE

Local Commerce Chamber Speakers Will Discuss Issue Before Clubs

In order to gain the opinion of representative business and professional men of Glendale on the desirability of local street-car service and lower fares between this city and Los Angeles, members of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce will visit all service clubs and other civic organizations during the coming week.

A presentation of the Chamber of Commerce plan for gaining lower rates over the Pacific Electric by accepting olcal service, such as is furnished to Hollywood, instead of the present interurban service, will be made before these clubs and a straw vote called for. Although the chamber directors are virtually unanimous in the belief that lower fares are desired, the voice of the service clubs will be sought to verify this opinion. W. T. Jefferson is chairman of the transportation committee.

Councilman Harry G. MacBain told chamber directors yesterday afternoon that members of the City Council are willing to press their request for lower fares before the State Railroad commission. The matter has been discussed in the committee room, he said, with unanimous agreement on the chamber's plan.

Fight Surcharge

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has wired Congressmen Lineberger and Fredericks, advocating that the surcharge on railroad Pullman fares be not abolished and that the matter be left in the hands of the Interstate Commerce commission. The recommendations of the Glendale chamber were signed by D. H. Smith, president.

A communication from R. W. Starr, proprietor of the Starr laundry, protesting the abolition of the present municipal laundry tax in Glendale was referred to the civics committee. The Chamber of Commerce directors met at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Director Fred Deal presiding in the absence of President Smith.

"It was not like this in the olden days"

In the olden days, you remember, we had the "general merchandise" store in which was carried everything from a needle to grindstone. But nowadays it is different. There are shoe stores, grocery stores, gents' furnishing stores, stores handling ladies' wearing apparel, and, in fact, there is a specialty store for 'most every branch of merchandise. Lawyers formerly conducted a general practice in law, whereas in this age each specializes in some particular branch of law—criminal, corporation, marine, etc. The old family doctor used to treat everything from corns to cancer. The modern doctor specializes usually in the treatment of some particular part of the body. And so it is in 'most every business or profession. This is an age of specialists. Mortgage companies are the outgrowth of the private individual who dealt in mortgages. It has gotten to be such a complicated business, involving so many details, that it now demands the services of experts in that line. WE ARE EXPERTS IN THE MORTGAGE BUSINESS, BEING THOROUGHLY QUALIFIED BY EXPERIENCE TO CONDUCT SUCH A BUSINESS.. OUR TIME IS DEVOTED EXCLUSIVELY TO THIS BUSINESS. Look over the names and qualifications of the men at the head of the GIBRALTAR FINANCE CORPORATION and judge for yourself.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

The editor of the Glendale Evening News, while not thinking it necessary to defend his Republican principles or his loyalty to the present national administration, feels constrained to tell his readers just what he thinks of Calvin Coolidge as a man and a president.

We firmly believe that at no time in the history of the United States has there come to the White House a man more eminently fitted to lead the people and to solve the particular problems of today than Coolidge. We do not know whether or not he would have made a good war president. We do not know how he would have handled such situations as confronted Washington, Lincoln, McKinley and Wilson. But we earnestly believe that President Coolidge is today's man, one who was raised up to serve the country in this after-war period in which national and international issues and problems are as numerous, as complicated, and as far-reaching in their results, as those that had to be met during the war.

During the last decade the nation had been passing through an era of governmental waste and extravagance of such colossal proportions as was calculated to lead us to disaster, if not to destruction. For this reason it was providential that a frugal New Englander should have come to the helm of the ship of state to steer us into channels of greater economy in government and saner living.

But his thrift is the least of President Coolidge's good traits. He is of the people and has demonstrated that he has a deep realization of his responsibility to the nation as a servant rather than a ruler, such as no president since Lincoln has shown. Not all our presidents have been able to look at issues impersonally and as the representative of the whole nation as Coolidge can and does.

Our president's taciturnity has been the subject of ridicule, but we believe it to be one of the greatest—and one of the most unusual—of virtues to be able to hold one's tongue when one has nothing to say. And Coolidge can talk when there is need of it. Then he says very clearly, forcefully and concisely, what he has to say. But he is not the first of our presidents to possess this virtue. Thomas Jefferson said:

"I served with General Washington in the legislature of Virginia, before the Revolution, and, during it, with Dr. Franklin in Congress. I never heard either of them speak ten minutes at a time, nor to any but the main point, which was to decide the question."

It has been said that Coolidge lacks the dignity of Washington, the benignity of Lincoln, the dynamic force of Roosevelt, the scholarship and the idealism of Wilson. But he has the patriotic devotion to country, the godliness, the wisdom, the sincerity, the integrity, the judgment, the determination—and the courage of them all.

Some one has said that a politician thinks of the next election, a statesman of the next generation. By this standard Coolidge is a statesman of the highest type. No man seeking public office ever demonstrated such fearlessness in the face of an election as was displayed by President Coolidge last summer. And his attitude on all questions indicates that he is thinking of the future of the nation as well as its present good.

We may have had presidents more distinguished, more scholarly, more polished and of more heroic and magnetic appearance and personality, but we never had one who could face the particular problems of today with more courage, wisdom and justice to all concerned than President Coolidge has done and can do.

We are a democratic people and we love a man who does not fear to be democratic, even though he be the chief executive of the greatest nation in the world. In many of the economies instituted by Coolidge in the conduct of the White House and the affairs of government his fearless devotion to democratic principles, more than the money he has saved, has endeared him to the people of this democracy.

We believe that President Coolidge is the man of the hour. The overwhelming plurality he received in the election gives him the support of the people in a larger measure than any other president has enjoyed. For this reason his opportunity is great and we believe he is thoroughly capable of making the most of it.

President Coolidge has no more ardent admirer, consistent advocate and loyal supporter than The Glendale Evening News.

IRELAND IN WANT

Conflicting reports come to us about conditions in Western Ireland. We hear that famine is stalking through the land. According to the Philadelphia Public Ledger the potato crop is ruined and wheat and oats have rotted before they could be harvested. Rains have caused a fuel shortage and it has been impossible to dry the peat. Hearthfires have been extinguished, inducing a train of misery and disease.

Irish-American papers claim that such reports are grossly exaggerated, although the distress is considerably greater than in normal years. There is no need, they say, for charity. There is ample means in the hands of the Irish government to cope with the situation.

Whatever the true facts may be, Ireland has only to call for help if she is really in need and the United States will respond as she has when other sections of Europe have been in distress and want.

WORTHLESS DEBTS

William Jennings Bryan employs his silver tongue in his manner of speaking about the controversy over our war debts. He urges exchanging "worthless debts for a priceless peace." This sounds like good advice and would be practical if it were possible. But many of the countrymen of this illustrious statesman fail to see why we should consider these debts as worthless, and they cannot understand how peace can be attained through their cancellation.

Some one not so eloquent as Bryan speaks of the war debt negotiations as an international game of bluff conducted on the plane of the oriental bazaar. There is much to be desired in the intercourse between nations and anything that would promote understanding would be welcomed. But, establishing a precedent by cancelling war debts would only encourage war by making it easier and would in no way promote a "priceless peace."

A man is known by the promises he keeps.

Wonder

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Few of us appreciate the value in the world of wonder.

Some two thousand years ago a Child was born, one of Whose names was Wonderful.

The shepherds wondered in the fields, the Magi wondered and worshipped the Child, and the people wondered at Him.

The people of earth have not got over their wonder yet. Once a year all the stores are decorated, the shops are full of pretty things, and people have an orgy of buying. Gifts are given to the little ones of the family and sometimes to the relatives.

Services are held in the churches and the keynote of all is this same wonderful occurrence that took place two thousand years ago.

So you see wonder is not to be discounted as a business asset. It sells many goods every year.

We come into the world wondering at all about us. We wonder at our parents, at the house we live in, at the sky above us, at everything that happens.

Little by little this faculty for wondering disappears. This process we call sophistication.

All of us seem anxious to lose our ability to wonder and to become sophisticated. Then after we have lost it we would like to have it back again.

We ridicule the poor boob at the theatre ticket office who is confused and amazed by all that is going on around him, who is awkward and stumbling because of his great wonder at what is taking place. But he goes in to the show and he gets twice as much out of it as we do.

We would give anything to be in his shoes and to have that tremendous faculty of appreciation which he has.

Wonder is at the bottom of religion. For this reason perhaps it was said that whoever shall not become as a little child shall not get into the Kingdom.

We must have the child faculty of wonder. In fact it is what keeps a man young. When he has ceased to wonder he has grown old.

True wisdom is indicated by a capacity for wonder. The really wise man knows that with all that he has found out there yet remains an infinite number of things to be discovered. He stands on the edge of his knowledge and looks at the myriad things that he cannot know.

The cheap wise man, the fraud and the egotist, look back rather on the things they have discovered and congratulate themselves upon knowing so much.

Most inventions that are of any value to the race are born of wonder. People get to wondering what this thing and that are for. They get to fumbling over them and the first thing you know they have come upon a great discovery.

No wonder the Lord of heaven and earth was called Wonderful.

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary direction. The Sun and Mars are mildly benefic in aspect, while Venus is adverse.

Women are likely to be severely criticised while this configuration lasts, for their success in gaining political office in certain states will array antagonistic forces against them, the seers declare.

This is held as an unlucky wedding day, since they who plight troth under this rule are likely to quarrel often.

This is a fairly favorable sway under which to seek openings in business, but it is probable that nothing definite can be arranged while this planetary sway prevails.

There is a promising sign today for persons engaged in the building trades, for there is to be much activity with the beginning of spring.

Imposing structures are to engage the atttention of architects and contractors; home builders may fall off for a time at the opening of the summer season.

Mercury's opposition to Neptune denots newspaper libels and trouble for pretended mediums and psychics.

Under this government of the stars danger of poisoning through mistake and accidents due to carelessness is supposed to be augmented.

The king of England is still under planetary influences that are not favorable and he may have many worries, domestic as well as governmental.

The next month should be fairly fortunate for investments, but not for speculation, for there will be sudden fluctuations on the stock market and even serious flurries.

Remarkable frauds and delusions may gain attention in the early spring.

Today's Poem

THE DAYS THAT ARE NO MORE

Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart, and gather to the eyes,
In looking on the happy autumn fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more.

Fresh as the first beam glittering on a sail,
That brings our friends up from the underworld,
Sad as the last which reddens over one
That sinks with all we love below the verge;
So sad, so fresh, the days that are no more.

Ah, sad and strange as in dark summer dawns,
The earliest pipe of half-awakened birds
To dying ears, when into dying eyes
The casement slowly grows a glimmering square;
So sad, so strange, the days that are no more.

Dear as remembered kisses after death,
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feigned
On lips that are for others; deep as love,
Deep as first love and wild with all regret;
Oh, death in life! the days that are no more.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

CLARK KINNAIRD

Have you ever yielded to a desire for vengeance? It's a human trait.

In the ordinary man injustice rouses a passionate desire for vengeance; and it has often been said that vengeance is sweet.

How many sacrifices have been made just to enjoy the feeling of vengeance, without any intention of causing an amount of injury equivalent to what one has suffered!

The bitter death of the centaur Nessus was sweetened by the certainty that he had used his last moments to work out an extremely clever revenge. Walter Scott in one of his novels expressed the same human inclination: "Vengeance is the sweetest morsel to the mouth that was ever cooked in hell!"

* * *

Schopenhauer, attempting a psychological explanation of it, wrote:

"Suffering which falls to our lot in the course of nature, or by chance, or fate, does not seem so painful as suffering which is inflicted on us by the arbitrary will of another. This is because we look upon nature and chance as the fundamental masters of the world; we see that the blow we received from them might just as well have fallen on another. In the case of suffering which springs from this source we bewail the common lot of humanity rather than our own misfortune.

"But that it is the arbitrary will of another which inflicts the suffering, is a peculiarly bitter addition to the pain or injury it causes, viz., the consciousness that some one else is superior to us, whether by force or cunning, while we lie helpless.

"If amends are possible, amends heal the injury; but that bitter addition, 'and it was you did that to me!' which is often more painful than the injury itself, is only to be neutralized by vengeance.

"By inflicting injury on the one who has injured us, whether we do it by force or cunning, is to show our superiority to him, and annul the proof of his superiority to us. That gives our hearts the satisfaction toward which it yearns.

"So where there is a great deal of pride or vanity, there also will be a great desire of vengeance.

* * *

But, as the fulfillment of every wish brings with it more or less of a sense of disappointment, so it is with vengeance. The delight we hope to get from it is mostly embittered by compassion.

"Vengeance taken will often tear the heart and torment the conscience; the motive to it is no longer active, and what remains is the evidence of our malice."

Who's Who

Possibly there are few more unpopular figures in Hungary than Admiral Nicholas Horthy von Nagybanya, present regent of Hungary, son of a rich Protestant farmer in the district of Szolnok. As a naval officer there is no denying that Horthy was able; he rose rapidly, was transferred to the general staff, became a naval aide-de-camp to the kaiser and Emperor Franz Joseph. In the early part of the war he proved himself as brave and loyal an officer as ever the emperor had, and, when the Germans crushed a mutiny at Cataro, he proved himself astute enough to take the credit.

The admiral was selected in 1918 to fulfill the baneful task of handing over the stricken empire's fleet to the enemy. To men whose whole lives had been spent in the navy this meant great shame and dishonor. Most of the high naval officers sadly put their clothes away with mothballs and tried to forget their humiliation. Not so with Horthy. Morning, noon and night, breakfast and dinner, found him bedecked as an admiral. If he went shooting in the royal forest near Godollo, his uniform was with him; he took it off when he went to bed and upon the rare occasions when he played tennis. And, as if a uniformed admiral of a non-existent navy were not ridiculous enough, he took to riding a white horse, a grotesque proceeding for an admiral, which earned him well-merited derision.

Most people believe that it was Horthy who crushed the Bolsheviki. This is not so, for when, in 1919, he entered Budapest on his white charger at the head of the national army, the Bolsheviki had already fallen under the coup de grace delivered by the Rumanian army. But, none the less, Horthy has consented to take the credit.

Today he is regent of Hungary. For whom he is regent is not clear; many believe for himself, although he declared at one time that he was holding the fort for banished Kaiser Karl. But, when the latter returned for the first Horthy was obliged to oppose him, and, on his second attempt to seize the throne, the admiral fought him and had him handed over to the allies, who took him to Madeira. In all fairness, Horthy was obliged to oppose the return of his monarch, for the armies of the Little Entente were mobilizing on Hungary's frontiers.

DECLARES ZONING LAW IS ILLEGAL

A. D. Looney Attacks Present Ordinance in Address At Realty Board

Zoning ordinances of the city of Glendale and other communities are direct violations of the constitution of the United States and the state of California and are evidences of the kind of tyranny which prompted the Boston tea party and the Declaration of Independence, A. D. Looney told members of the Glendale Realty board at their meeting at the Harriett Mae tea room today.

"Police and tax powers, the great fundamental powers of government, are miserably abused," Mr. Looney declared. "The Glendale city ordinance creating industrial, commercial and business zones is strictly unlawful throughout," he said, "but the knockout is the clause which declares that, even though one section is found unconstitutional, all other sections and clauses remain legal and lawful.

"An ordinance declaring a grocery store a nuisance does not make it a nuisance," he declared. "Decisions of state supreme courts in recent years have sounded the death knell to restrictions which are placed in property deeds before the property is sold.

For Fare Reduction

"City officials, in taking office, swear to uphold the constitution of the United States, but such ordinances passed by these same officials do not support that same constitution."

The Glendale Realty board voted unanimously to support the Chamber of Commerce in its fight for lower street car fares between this city and Los Angeles over the Pacific Electric. After Bert P. Woodard, representing the chamber had spoken, a rising vote showed all members of the board present to favor the fare reduction.

After President W. L. Twining opened the meeting, he retired in favor of Vice-President J. M. Boland who presided. A. H. Voelker introduced Mr. Looney, the speaker of the day.

AUTO SHOW TENT UP FOR BUSINESS

'Big Top' Erected to House Glendale Motor Dealers' Car Exhibition

The big tent that is to house the first annual automobile show of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association went up today. The location chosen is the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Magnolia avenue. The size of the tent is 100x300 feet. The show will open Saturday night, March 7, and continue eight days, closing Saturday night, March 14, states P. A. Kelley, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Within the next two or three days the interior of the big tent will be transformed into a gala exhibition place, where twenty-two members of the association will exhibit the latest models of their cars, and where in addition large numbers of automobile accessory firms will stage attractive exhibits.

The show is being put on under the management of Harry LaBreque, who has put on similar shows elsewhere and is known all up and down the Pacific coast. In addition to the many worthwhile exhibits, entertainment programs of vaudeville and music, new each night, will be offered at the first annual automobile show of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, according to Mr. Kelley.

Lions Hear Report on Charter Night Affair

The sum of $107 was realized from the recent Charter night celebration of the Glendale Lions' club, it was announced this noon by A. J. Brown, chairman of the ways and means committee, at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the club, held at Spaghetti Station, No. 1, 1524 East Colorado boulevard. W. B. Kelly, president of the club, presided.

Mr. Brown reported the recommendation of his committee that $225 be spent to purchase and install six Lions' club signs, one at each main entrance to the city. The recommendation was referred to the executive committee.

The members present voted to submit to the full membership of the club, as an amendment to the constitution, that weekly luncheon charges be paid in advance, by the month, together with the dues.

Car Reported Stolen Found In San Diego

The car reported stolen Monday from J. V. Hough, 241 South Orange street, local Chevrolet dealer, was found today in San Diego, according to information received by the Glendale police. The authorities of the southern city are still looking for a man who gave his name as O. R. Weaver and issued a bogus check, in payment for the car.

N. L. Dutton of 308 South Brand boulevard reports theft of materials from a building under construction at 1940 Tenth street.

Will Dwight B. Lapp please stand up and announce himself?

A recent arrival in Glendale from Freeport, Ill., Lapp stopped at the Coast to Coast Army store the other day to buy a pair of overalls. He tendered one of the $10 traveler's check that he purchased back in Freeport.

The checks, accepted everywhere on the globe, must be signed by the holder. Lapp signed it—but in the wrong place.

Today the Coast to Coast Army store got the traveler's check back. It awaits Lapp's signature—in the right place.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton & Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

She was interrupted by the arrival of an automobile which drew up suddenly in front of the house. Two men got out and came toward them. In one of them, a round-headed, square-jawed man with small, piercing eyes, Graham recognized Inspector Brietman. About the thin-lipped spectacled face of hte other, whom Brietman introduced later as Chief Detective Flint, Graham thought there was something familiar, but, after a second glance, he concluded that it was only a resemblance he saw to a hundred other men whom he passed daily in the street. Put him in a crowd and he would fade away instantly into invisibility. Closer study, however, would have revealed a personality camouflaged—a quizzical twist to the wide mouth, force in the jaw.

Graham turned quickly to the girl beside him. "These men are from police headquarters," he whispered. "The man inside has telephoned to them. I'm afraid something serious must have happened.

He was trying clumsily to prepare her for the shock which awaited her, loath to have her learn of the crime under the sharp eyes of Inspector Brietman. She was plainly frightened and unstrung, and innocence could so easily be made to look like guilt. Breitman, he knew, made a point of suspecting everybody. He had heard it said of him that the very portraits on the walls had to prove themselves not guilty when he was investigating a case.

"Pull yourself together; keep calm; don't let them see you are frightened; remember that I am here," he whispered.

He saw her make a strong effort to steady herself. There was evidently force of character under her feminine softness. In a moment, though pale, she had herself well in hand.

As the two detectives approached, Graham stepped forward.

"Inspector Brietman, isn't it?" he asked. "I know you well by sight and reputation, Inspector, though I haven't had the pleasure of meeting you before. I am John Graham, of Graham, Keith & Graham, Mr. Hurst's attorneys. This is Mrs. Hurst. I am afraid I upset her a little just now by telling her I saw a policeman enter the house."

Inspector Breitman acknowledged the introduction with a solemn bow. "I am sorry to say, Mrs. Hurst, that we have had word of a very terrible happening here," he said bluntly. "I think, Mr. Graham, that we had better step inside."

"Mrs. Hurst tells me that the servants are all out, but she has her key," said Graham.

He took the key which Evadne held out to him, and opened the door. The lights which Sergeant Bassett had turned on were still blazing. The drawing room was alight. Inspector Breitman motioned them toward it. Evadne sank down into a great armchair in whose depths she seemed lost. As her long cloak fell open, Graham saw that she wore a gown of some soft, white fabric. A small hat was pulled down crookedly over her shadowy, lusterless hair as if put on without the aid of a mirror.

"Now tell me," she besought them, faintly.

"It is bad news, Mrs. Hurst," said the Inspector, standing over her. "It's no use trying to break it gently as they say—there's been murder done here."

He paused, but Evadne, staring straight before her, uttered no word. She had evidently braced herself to receive stoically whatever blow might fall. Graham noticed only that her knuckles whitened as she clutched the carved arm of the chair. He resented the gaze fixed upon her by the Inspector's small, sharp eyes, which seemed to grow every minute smaller and sharper. He wanted to thrust himself before her as a shield.

The Inspector spoke again: "I regret to tell you, Mrs. Hurst, that your husband has been shot."

Evadne drew in her breath sharply. The expression which passed over her face, Graham was sure was not one of surprise, neither was it one of sorrow.

"When?" she whispered at last.

"The coroner will have to tell us that. He will be here directly."

She moistened her lips nervously. "Do you—do you suspect anyone?" she stammered.

"Not yet."

The tension of the clutching fingers relaxed.

"Before we go upstairs, Mrs. Hurst, I would like to ask you a few questions," said the inspector.

Graham found his manner polite but unsympathetic. Evadne's unemotional reception of the news of her husband's murder had created, he saw, a bad impression.

She seemed to feel this, for she turned her eyes beseechingly on Graham as if imploring trust. A thrill ran through him as he met her glance. Under the hard crust of the practical twentieth-century man of affairs stirred the dormant spirit of knighthood. He bent over her solicitously.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Fred J. Butler, regarded as one of the leading theatrical producers in the business, has been signed to stage the future productions of the Dobinson Players, announces Mrs. Florence Dobinson, and will begin rehearsals with "Barnum Was Right," which follows "A Woman's Way," now showing nightly at the Playhouse Theatre.

"Everyone knows the reputation of Fred J. Butler as a producer," said Mrs. Dobinson in making this announcement. "When his name was first suggested to me I laughed at the very idea of our securing him. In the first place I did not know he was at liberty and in the second place I did not see how we could satisfy his demands financially.

"Mr. Butler, however, recognizes and sympathizes with the desire of the Dobinson Players to put on the highest class of plays with the best casts and he is with us. I am busy negotiating with eastern managers to obtain their latest and most successful plays, things that have not yet been produced in the west.

"With Fred J. Butler to stage our productions, with the talented group of actors and actresses we have gathered together, and with the superior type of plays we are now bringing from the east, I see for the Dobinson Players a success that has not heretofore been dreamed by any of us. Glendale is to have the best there is in dramatic stock productions."

THE GATEWAY

A word in five letters that means merriment. That's an easy one for you cross word puzzle hounds.

Laugh! Yes, you got it the first time.

It applies to Bebe Daniels' second starring picture for Paramount, "Miss Bluebeard," which opens at the Gateway theatre tonight.

The production is an adaptation of Avery Hopwood's big Broadway success and includes Raymond Griffith, Robert Frazer, Kenneth MacKenna and others in support.

The story is a love farce of a gay French actress who gets married and then discovers that she has not one husband but two.

Complications? Laughs? The stage play was a riot in New York and crammed them in on a country-wide tour—and the picture is even better than the play.

The picture, directed by Frank Tuttle, brings Bebe to the screen in a role different from anything she has ever done before.

There will also be the usual Wednesday feature of select vaudeville.

THE T. D. & L.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WILLOW BUGS

One morning, when Uncle Wiggily slid down the banister railing to breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow, he found the kitchen cold and dark. There was no fire glowing, no cheerful smell of pancakes and maple syrup, and no Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy to greet the bunny.

"What can have happened?" thought Mr. Longears. "I hope my muskrat lady housekeeper hasn't gone away and left me."

But soon, from upstairs, he heard a voice calling to him:

"Uncle Wiggily, I am too ill to come down stairs and get your breakfast. Can you manage by yourself?"

"Surely I can, Nurse Jane," answered the bunny. "And I am very sorry that you are ill. I'll call Dr. Possum and he will make you well. Don't worry."

Uncle Wiggily started the fire, put the kettle on to boil so he could make Nurse Jane a hot cup of coffee, and then, not waiting to eat his own breakfast he hopped across the lots to get Dr. Possum. The animal physician promised to call as soon as he could, and, hopping back to his hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily took Nurse Jane up the coffee and baked himself some pancakes.

What matter if he did burn a few?" What matter if he spilled the maple syrup all over the table? And what harm if he broke a plate? None at all, say I, when you think how anxious the bunny was about Nurse Jane.

"She needs some willow buds to eat," said Dr. Possum when he had looked at Nurse Jane's tongue and felt of her tail, which was very hot.

"Where can I get her any willow buds?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Willow buds," explained Dr. Possum, "grow on the willow tree near the edge of the duck pond. If it were nearer spring the buds would be larger and better. But they will do even now. You will find them quite bitter, Nurse Jane, but they are just the medicine you need."

"I'll go get them at once," said Uncle Wiggily. Putting on his fur coat, for the weather was cold, and twinkling his pink nose, Uncle Wiggily hopped across the field until he reached the duck pond. Near it grew willow trees. But though the trees could easily be reached in summer, now the duck pond was high, and it was covered with ice. So to reach the willow trees and gnaw some buds from the low twigs, near the ground, Uncle Wiggily must go out on the ice.

"I hope I don't break through and splash into the cold water," said the bunny gentleman to himself. "And I hope, while I am gathering the willow buds, that the Skillery Scallery Alligator doesn't break up through the ice to nibble my ears! That would be dreadful!"

But when he thought of how much Nurse Jane had done for him, Uncle Wiggily knew he must be brave, and go out on the ice to get the willow buds for her.

So out on the ice he hopped. At first he was quite timid, for the ice cracked with him, and he thought it would break. Twice he ran back toward shore, but when he saw no holes Uncle Wiggily grew less afraid, and finally got out to the trees.

He was gnawing off some of the buds, and putting them in his pocket when, all of a sudden, there was a noise under the ice beneath him.

"Oh, here comes the Skillery Scallery Alligator!" cried Uncle Wiggily. But it wasn't at all! It was Toddle and Noodle Flat Tail, the beavers, who lived in their house of rushes beneath the ice. They swam in water under the ice.

And when, looking up through the ice, they saw the bunny, they quickly broke a hole and popped up to him.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" cried Toodle and Noodle.

"Oh, hello!" greeted the bunny. "I'm so glad you aren't the Alligator." The beaver boys were also glad. Then they helped the bunny gather willow buds for Nurse Jane. And when the muskrat lady had taken some she grew well again, which made everyone happy.

So this teaches us not to be afraid of anything until we know what it is. And if the cake of soap doesn't feel so proud, because it's colored pink, that it won't speak to the wash rag, you shall next hear the wonderful story of Uncle Wiggily and the glue pot.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"My Dear Followers:—Please do not depend upon personal answers from me for condtiions that have to have the immediate attention of a physician. And do not depend on the column for such advice, for even though your question can be answered in the column and answered immediately, it would be at least four weeks before it can appear. I have to consider letters in turn as they come in and this means that the answer may not appear for a much longer time than that.

I am writing this warning again because I have just come across a letter written some time ago, giving a description of a lump in the breast, that sounds suspiciously like a cancer. This should have had the immediate personal attention of a physician.

The normal breast feels lumpy if you pinch it between the fingers. To know if there is an abnormal lump, you should lie down and press with the hand flat on the breast. If there is any abormality, don't hesitate a minute to see a competent, experienced physician. If it should be a cancer, the longer it is delayed, the more serious are the consequences.

WRINKLES

"Dear Doctor: I hardly know how to thank you for what you have done for me. I am in my forties and have been overweight most of my life.

"Since following your advice, I have lost 65 pounds. I am still overweight and expect to continue to reduce until I am normal. I am losing from eight to ten pounds per month, and I do not wrinkle at all.—Mrs. S."

Sixty-five pounds is a tremendous amount and I know you must be very happy not to be carrying that excess around with you any longer.

Up to the 40's (or longer, in many cases), the skin is still elastic and there is no danger of wrinkling. But if at the time of reducing you are at the age when wrinkles are normal and you are not wrinkled simply because your face is puffed out with fat, you can expect a few; but who would not rather have a few wrinkles more or less and have some expression to the face, feel well and happy and have a longer life expectancy, than to be burdened with overweight?

With proper care, however—slapping the face to bring the blood to the surface, good face creams or glycerine and rose water, daily cold water or ice applications, etc.—there should be no excess wrinkling.

I am glad that you have demonstrated that it isn't necessary to continue to be overweight even though you have been so most of your life. Oftentimes the fact of being overweight from childhood makes some believe that it is natural and therefore cannot be helped. You have proved the fallacy of that belief. Congratulations on your good work, and thanks for passing it along.

T. B. AND GAINING WEIGHT

"Dear Doctor:—It is to your valuable pamphlet on Tuberculosis that I owe my good health. I have gained 25 pounds this last year. Thanking you.—Mrs. H."

Thank you for letting us know about this, Mrs. H.

Building up the nutrition, and living in the open air and sunshine, are the two main props of curing tuberculosis. Foods that are rich in vitamins are especially beneficial—milk, cream, egg yolks, whole grain cereals, spinach and other greens.

Those of you who desire this pamphlet may have it by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope with request.

Mrs. B.:—Yes, swimming is one of the best of the exercises both for reducing and gaining. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope and ask for the articles on acidosis and auto-intoxication.

Tomorrow: Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Corn Rolls: Sift together one and one-fourth cups of bread flour, three-fourths of a cup of yellow cornmeal, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of granulated sugar. Into this rub two tablespoons of butter, with the finger-tips. Add one beaten egg to one-half cup of sweet milk and turn this mixture into the dry ingredients. It will make a soft dough that can be easily handled. Turn the dough out onto a floured board and roll to one-half inch in thickness. Cut with a biscuit cutter, put a bit of butter in the center of each round, and fold opposite edges to meet center. Brush tops with sweet milk and bake in a hot oven for 20 minutes.

Cream of Tartar Biscuits: Melt two tablespoons of butter and add it to one cup of sweet milk. Sift together two and one-half cups of bread flour, one teaspoon of soda, two teaspoons of cream of tartar and one-half teaspoon of salt. Add the liquid to this dry mixture, and a little more flour (if necessary) to make a dough stiff enough to roll out. Roll to one-half inch in thickness and cut in rounds with a biscuit cutter. Bake in a hot over for 20 minutes.

Wholewheat Muffins: Put into a bowl one-eighth of a cup of granulated sugar, one unbeaten egg-yolk and one cup of sweet milk; beat all together, then add one-half cup of white bread flour mixed and sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder. Also add one cup of wholewheat flour, two tablespoons of melted butter, and fold in one egg-white stiffly beaten. Turn all into a greased muffin pan and bake for 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Quick Raisin Bread: Sift together four cups of bread flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt and one cup of granulated sugar; add two cups of sweet milk mixed with two beaten eggs. Then stir in one cup of seedless raisins (or one cup of walnut meats chopped, if preferred) and let stand for 20 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes, in two greased loaf-cake pans. Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

THE CHIN LINE

Sometimes age shows in tiny wrinkles around the eyes, so faint one sees them only when one is very tired. Sometimes it is wrinkles, or brackets as they call them, around the mouth, and very often it is by a falling of the flesh under the chin.

If it is the latter, begin a course of massage and astringents. If the middle-aged look comes because you are betting stout, remember that a lot of that surplus flesh is going to settle under the chin, stretching the skin there until it looks like a bag. If it is overweight, of course you will start to reduce if you are wise. And the wiser you are, the sooner you'll start, for it's no joke to make that stretched skin smooth and taut and firm as it should be.

I'd suggest a sort of pinching massage, taking the flesh between the fingers and thumb and pinching and kneading it. Then massage backward from the chin to the throat, using the upper or the inner parts of the fingers, which ever is most convenient. If you use cream, use cleansing cream, and follow each massage by an ice rub lasting ten minutes. This not only helps reduce the flesh, it also tightens the loose, baggy skin and makes the texture of the skin itself finer.

Many people ask me what I think of chin straps. Personally, I think it's a shame anyone has to bother with such ugly and artificial contrivances, but I must admit they have their uses. If the skin has been stretched under the chin, it can be rubbed with astringent stuff and then a strap adjusted to keep the flesh fimly in place. They're best worn at night; but if you were alone and uninterrupted doing your housework, for instance, you might put one on then, and wear it during the few hours when your morning duties occupy your times. These straps are braces and do help by holding the muscles in position a few hours a day.

Peggy—Chapping usually comes from inactive perspiration and oil glands, and by poor circulation. Hence any treatment that helps these conditions, and any systematic exercise which puts the body in good condition decreases the skin's tendency to chap.

When the skin has this tendency and you do not dry it thoroughly after bathing, especially in hot water, and then go out, your skin will always chap. From the habit of biting the lips chapping is also apt to follow. Try camphor ice or a white lipstick to protect your lips from the air while you are out and use any of the honey and almond cream mixtures on your hands after washing them.

Tomorrow—Electric Vibrators

This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. Officers of Ad Club Turn In Resignations

In order to "effect organization and increase the membership," officers of the Advertising Club of Glendale tendered their resignations at a meeting of the club at 108 East Broadway last night.

After it had been pointed out that the club in the past had not functioned in a manner to warrant the support of any large number of advertisers and reorganization "along broader lines" had been suggested, Secretary B. P. Fisher tendered his resignation. It was followed by similar action on the part of Ed N. Radke, president, and Ryland Sizer, vice-president. V. E. White, treasurer, was not present at the meeting but will resign also, it was stated. Members of the board of directors will also follow suit. Directors are R. E. Brown, Ed Heiser, B. P. Fisher, A. E. Shirer and T. D. Watson.

A committee to formulate plans for a new organization was the outgrowth of the meeting last night. This committee will consist of W. L. Taylor, E. J. Sullivan, Ed Heiser and E. R. West. This committee will aim to reorganize the club with a greater membership and with wider interests than in the past, Mr. Sullivan said.

BANK BANQUET IS ROUSING SUCCESS

Glendale State Institution Stockholders Unite At Country Club

Seventy-five officers, directors and stockholders of the Glendale State bank gathered last night at the Oakmont Country club for the third annual stockholders' banquet of the institution. A. R. Eastman, president of the bank and president of the board of directors, presided. Albert D. Pearce, a stockholder, prominent Los Angeles attorney and president of the Glendale Union High school Board of Trustees, was toastmaster.

President Eastman, in a strong talk on past accomplishments, present standing and future prospects of the Glendale State bank, stressed the fact that in the three years of its history, the institution has paid dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, and in addition has added to its $100,000 capital a $20,000 surplus, which is equivalent to $10 per cent on $200,000 earned. Total resources of the institution now approximate $1,250,000, he stated, closing his remarks with a plea to the stockholders to continue and further augment this gratifying prosperity by striving at all times to bring new business to the bank.

Officials Praised

Albert D. Pearce, as toastmaster, delivered a rousing address, calling upon the stockholders to witness that the officers and directors of the Glendale State bank have worked hard and faithfully for the interests of those who hold the securities of the institution, and deserve great praise for the success they have brought to the Glendale State bank.

Oma A. Fish, vice-president of the institution, spoke on old acquaintanceship, recalling that many residents who have lived here for years are numbered among the stockholders. George E. Farmer, cashier, spoke of the support and efficiency of the employes of the bank, stating that there have been very few changes since the institution was founded.

Directors Speak

Among the directors of the Glendale State bank who spoke were: W. E. Evans, prominent Los Angeles attorney and candidate to the house of representatives from the ninth congressional district; C. D. Lusby, former cashier of the Glendale State bank and president of the Lusby Mortgage & Investment Co.; C. E. Kimlin, member of the Glendale City Council and prominent in local financial and investment affairs; and Howard W. Walker, well-known business man and capitalist.

Stockholders of the institution who spoke included: Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, former president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. R. W. Sen. M'Cormick Dies Alone In Hotel Room

McCormick, and was graduated from Yale in 1906.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ruth McCormick, daughter of the late Mark Hanna, and three children.

Beaten for Re-election

Elected to the United States Senate in November 1918, McCormick had served continuously since, but was defeated for re-election in the last Illinois primaries.

At the time of his death, McCormick was generally believed to be in good health, and the news of his death occasioned great surprise throughout political and social circles in the capital.

Despite his defeat at the polls, McCormick had not intended to retire to private life, and was under consideration for appointment as United States ambassador to Paris or some other important European post.

As a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, McCormick came into prominence during the famous League of Nations fight. He was enrolled among the "irreconcilables" who opposed ratification of the Versailles treaty under any consideration.

Body to Chicago

The body will be taken to Chicago in a special car tomorrow, according to tentative plans. It will be accompanied by the sergeant-at-arms of the Senate and a suitable delegation of his colleagues.

It was planned to take the body this afternoon to the home of Countess Gizycka, a cousin of the senator, near Dupont circle, there to remain until it is placed aboard the train for Chicago.

Senator McCormick had been an intermittent sufferer from stomach trouble for ten years, his friends said today. He was operated on in 1914 for ulcers of the stomach, and, although the operation, apparently, had corrected this condition, it, nevertheless, did not eliminate all of the trouble.

TRUCK DRIVER IN NARROW ESCAPE

G. H. Dean Thrown Through Windshield When P. E. Car Hits Vehicle

G. H. Dean, of 1350 Kent place, escaped death by a narrow margin at 7:45 o'clock this morning, when the one-ton truck he was driving was demolished at the Doran street crossing of Brand boulevard by a Burbank limited of the Pacific Electric, bound for Los Angeles.

Dean was catapulted half through the windshield by the force of the impact, eye-witnesses declare, and was buried under the wreckage. Miraculously, he crawled out practically unhurt, sustaining only minor cuts and bruises, according to Dr. J. E. Eckles, who attended him. The truck was owned by G. Edwin Murphy, nurseryman, of 421 North Brand boulevard.

Dean was going east on Doran street, according to his own report, filed at Glendale police headquarters. Seeing the approaching limited and observing a crowd of people in the safety zone, he concluded it would stop at the crossing and continued on. The limited did not stop and the crash resulted.

BEST LIGHTED BOULEVARD PROPOSED

Movement On Foot To Make Brand Thoroughfare Talk Of All the Southland

A movement to make Brand boulevard the best-lighted thoroughfare in Southern California was launched last night by the South Glendale Business Men's association, at a meeting held in the offices of M. C. Patton, secretary-treasurer, 1013 South Brand boulevard. The meeting was presided over by L. G. Scovern, president. This movement contemplates changing the present standards for a type "as good as those on Broadway, Los Angeles."

A resolution was adopted putting the association on record as favoring the very best possible type of ornamental street lighting standards for Brand boulevard, its entire length, from San Fernando road to Mountain street. A committee was appointed to go into the matter and report at another meeting, to be held at the same place next Tuesday night, March 3. This committee comprises; L. H. Wilson, chairman; W. C. Patton, and J. W. Birney.

Crossing Plans

A committee was also named to be present at the City Hall, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, March 3, at the hearing before the City Council on the application to the State Railroad commission that crossings be permitted over the Pacific Electric tracks at Palmer and Gardena avenues. This committee comprises: L. G. Scovern, chairman; L. H. Wilson, E. G. Thomas, S. Berman and J. W. Birney.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the South Glendale Business Men's association to maintain a booth at the Central avenue celebration on Saturday, March 7, to give out favors and to help the Central Avenue Improvement association in every other way possible in commemorating completion of the widening, paving and lighting of Central avenue.

COLIMA, EASY FOR WALKER, IS BARRED IN SEVENTH ROUND

Champion Smacks Pacific Coast's Pride At Will; Mexican Out When His Seconds Pull Old-Time Stuff

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Any popular ideas that Bert Colima, Los Angeles Mexican boxer and middleweight champion of the Pacific coast, is other than a pugilistic bum of the lowest strata were soaring higher than the well-known cocked hat today, as a result of that Aztec gentleman's somnambulistic experience here last night at the hands of a pug-nosed Irishman in Jack Doyle's Vernon arena.

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, smacked the west's pride kicking in seven rounds, thereby keenly disappointing a score of newspaper experts gathered to inform the lowly fans as to the winner at the end of the scheduled twelve-round no-decision bout.

Disqualification, such as ruled in the Colima-Walker fight last night, counts as a knockout, and wagers along that line should be paid on the same basis as though Colima had been counted out.

Without so much as disturbing a single thread of purple silk which encased his long-muscled legs, the New Jersey boxer wove a mesmeric spell around the hitherto idolized personage of Spanish extraction, sent forth in the role of his opponent; he socked him for a nine count in the first round, bent his blue-veined body purple in the next five cantos and sent him rolling into his own corner in the seventh wrapped up in a fusillade of blows hotter than any bowl of chili ever brewed on Colima's native heath south of the Rio Grande. Walker's chief weapons were a left hook to the body and a chin right cross.

Makes Pitiful Showing

If there was anyone in the assembly, who paid from $3.50 to $16.50 to witness Mr. Colima's formal entry into sack cloth and ashes, suffering from an overly dispassionate complex, he might have given the Mexican the fourth round. In that session Colima seemed to have dragged an outraged body and failing heart from a confused and distressing state of dreaminess. He socked the champion four or five healthies with his right hand. Otherwise the performance of the local pride was pitiful.

Colima swooned in the arms of his manager when the seventh round got going, the Mexican's director stooped to garner his clay-footed boy and feverishly dashed smelling salts under heaving nostrils. Referee Harry Lee ceased his death toll at the count of five and thereupon disqualified the Los Angeles boxer. This appeared quite as unnecessary and useless as the salts, for Colima was out and finished.

At latest reports, Jimmy Duffy of Oakland, known as Pacific coast welter king, who asked the winner at the battle's dawning, for a match, was brave enough not to withdraw his well meant challenge.

The fight attracted a $60,000 gate, of which Walker received 40 per cent and Colima $10,000.

Preliminary Bouts

Sailor Bogardus subbed for "Bud" Jones, who failed to make the grade in the first bout against Willie Goldstein. They weighed 190 pounds apiece and set off at a fast pace. Bogardus got the decision. In a four-rounder Johnny Lamar gave Johnny Sacco a distressing twelve minutes of cuffing, and grabbed a one-sided decision. The light heavyweight boy from Wisconsin, Lou Rollinger, met Young George in the third bout. They got off to a slow start and were properly booed by the crowd when they failed to deliver enough goods to please the cash customers. They showed a little more speed at the last and Referee Weinman called it a draw.

In the semi-windup Ray Miller, who is rated as quite a boy back in Chicago, met California Joe Lynch. Weinman raised Lynch's hand at the end of the tangle to indicate that he had put up the best fight—and was hooted for it. Miller wanted to slug and Lynch resorted to covering up and frenquent clinching. That removed all the possible thrills. In the fifth round Miller drew blood with a heavy tap, but it was the only damaging blow in the first fifteen minutes. In the sixth he got Lynch backed into a corner and shook him up considerably with sharp rights and lefts.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Some times very, very rarely, nevertheless sometimes—an incident crops up in the boxing game which goes to show there are great and fine chaps in every game. Denny McMahon, who was Louis (Kid) Kaplan's manager in his home town in Bridgeport, is the nominee.

When a fighter makes good in his old home town his thoughts naturally turn to New York and nothing will satisfy him until he makes a trip to the metropolis and learns to his regret that no one ever heard of him and that his services are not in demand.

But sometimes a metropolitan manager who happens to see something in the lad comes up and promises to put him over. Which he may do, or may not do. Often, however, he does and then it is goodbye to the manager in the home town who brought the fighter out.

You can count on the thumbs of your hands the boys who have made good and still have the same home-town managers. The New Yorker usually begins with a share of the boy's earnings and winds up in the sole control.

The latest? Kid Kaplan. The news that Denny McMahon has returned from the west coast without Kaplan recalls a conversation held with Denny last winter. Asked why he gave up such a good prospect as Kaplan, he replied that the Kid's heart was set on boxing in the Madison Square Garden and that Monteith could do that for him. Throughout the winter Scotty cut into some juicy purses that Kaplan commanded in his home state and mind you genial Denny did all the work and got less than half his usual bit.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Walter Johnson will net a large sum of money by his decision to return to Washington and pitch for the champions again in 1925. The amount will be as great, probably, as the $25,000 or more that Washington will pay him, plus the interest on whatever he would have had to invest had he become a minor league magnate.

The chances are that on a first year investment in a minor league, between the interest he would lose or pay, the amount of principal involved, and the general expenditures that go with a first introduction to baseball ownership, the outgo would have been heavy.

Johnson's dickers for a ball club in California were based in part on what he was expected to glean, as a hero fresh from his world series triumph, in the first swing around the California circuit. It was figured that on his first playing appearance in each of the coast cities he would pack in one of the greatest crowds that had ever turned out for a ball game.

Owners on the coast, outside of the ones with whom he was dickering—he first attempted Oakland and then Vernon—were beaming when they heard that Johnson might become one of their number. They looked forward to those magic appearances too.

Johnson, of course, could have looked for a fortnight or more of big business at Oakland or Vernon, but after that his team would have had to show something to keep the fans with it, for Johnson as an individual would not be as great a drawing card on the Pacific coast as in the American league zone, where the fans have brighter memories of his exploits of the past.

Johnson is certainly ahead on this year's decision to remain with Washington in any way that his position can be figured. Whatever he gets from Washington will not have to be shared with others, as would have been the case had he gone into minor league ball as a partner in club ownership.

Should he happen to not have the best of seasons in 1925, he still will be in a position to go to a minor league with as much prestige as any star would have after a successful major league career.

There would still be the fact that he had been one of the great pitchers of all time—and that means about as much ten months from a given date as ten days from a given date.

The probabilities are that Johnson's decision to stick to Washington because of inability to come to terms with a Pacific coast owner will be worth $50,000 to him in one way and another. If he should happen to have another good year in the big leagues it will be worth more than that to him, because he will be ready to continue for still another year on the "big time." And there is more money in the American league for Walter Johnson as long as he can win 60 per cent of his games, than there is for him as a baseball magnate in the so-called bushes.

Four Records Fall At Miami Swimming Meet

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25.—Four world's swimming records were broken at the Miami Beach Casino Tuesday afternoon by the girl swimming stars in their first program here. Gertrude Ederle, Aileen Riggin, Adelaide Lambert and Helen Wainwright cut nine seconds off the 400-yard relay race record, their time being 4:23 4-5. Doris O'Mara swam the next 100 yards and brought the time for 500 yards down to 5:30:10, 4-5 seconds below the old record. Ethel McGary swam the next 100 yards and brought the time for the distance to 6:37 4-5, smashing another record. Ethel Lackie got away to a flying start and easily defeated Martha Norelius in the 120-yard free style in 1:18 2-5 seconds.

Bobbing of hair continues so popular in England that London coiffeur specialists are opening branches in suburbs and small country towns.

DYNAMITERS WIN IN FIRST ROUND

Defeat Perris 36 to 8 On Pomona College Court As Playoff Starts

By keeping the ball bouncing off the Perris backboard during practically the whole game Coach Butterfield's Glendale lightweight league champions beat the Perris 130-pound team yesterday on the Pomona college floor, 36 to 8, and advanced into the second round of the Southern California Class B play-offs.

The Glendalians had a thousand chances to score but so dull was the competition that they were not forced to put the ball through the netting as much as one out of two or three times. Sturgess again hogged the calcium, tossing eight goals for a total of sixteen markers. Sturgess has starred in the last three games in which he has played, also coming out on top of the high point list. Lovell ran Sturgess close for honors, seven goals for a total of fourteen points.

Sours seemed to be the only man on the losers' team that could get the pill in. He scored fve points, a good part of the total Perris score.

The lineups:

Glendale—36		Perris—8
Lovell (14)	R.F.L.	Wilkinson
Harrison (c) (6)	L.F.R.	Sours (5)
Sturgess (16)	C.	Williams (1)
Muff	R.G.L.	Morris (1)
Alvord	L.G.R.	Berendt (1)

BASKETBALL RESULTS

The M. E. church casaba tossers had everything their own way last night when they defeated the Christian church players 50 to 8 at the Harvard High school gym in a Merchants' league game. The score at the end of the first half was 25 to 0. The Christian churchmen scored three baskets in the third period and one in the fourth for their eight points.

Weise, center for the winners, was high point man with 21, while Hallam was second with 12. Bowers, Sheafer, Nebel and Ojer accounted for the points made by the losers by getting a basket apiece.

Last night's win gives the M. E. church a tie for third place with the Calla Lily team, while the Christian church remains on the bottom. The lineups:

M. E. CH. (50)		CHRIST. CH. (8)
Whitney (6)	R.F.	Bowers (2)
Ward (11)	L.F.	Sheafer (2)
Weise (21)	C.	Davis
Wolf	R.G.	Nebel (2)
Dick	L.G.	Heacock

Substitutions: Hallam (12) for Whitney; Ojer (2) for Heacock.

Score By Quarters

	1	2	3	4	Tl.
M. E. Church	12	13	7	18	—50

Tonight will see the Standard Oilers and Legion battling for fifth place as the first round of play ends. The Oilers have won one and lost three games, having a percentage of .250, while the Legion has won one and lost four games, having a percentage of .200. The postponed game between the Oilers and Radio will not be played this week, but will be sandwiched in some time after the second round starts on March 2.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—While Cornell's representative on the Board of Poughkeepsie Stewards voted against the return of the four mile route on the Hudson river, it now develops that there is very general satisfaction throughout the university and among ranks of the alumni of the change from three miles.

It appears that Cornell's attitude in standing by the shorter distance was dictated not at all by conviction but in deference to the views of the late Charles E. Courtney, who felt that too much time was required for the proper development of four mile crews and that the effort involved was asking too much of the oarsmen.

Cornell feels that the three mile course has had a fair trial. It was in 1920 that the stewards voted for this distance, but that year the race went to Cayuga Lake and it was decided that the two miles were long enough.

But in 1921-22-23-24 the race was for three miles. It is recalled at Ithaca that Cornell's greatest rowing victories are associated with the four mile route. Some of the greatest Courtney crews established their supremacy over this course, including the 1901 eight which still holds the world's record for four miles, 18 minutes 53 1-5 seconds.

Nor is the fact ignored that Cornell has not won a varsity race since the three-mile course was established, her last victory being in 1915 at Poughkeepsie.

The scales to the longer route seem to have been inclined when Pennsylvania abandoned an attitude maintained. In this the influence of Jim Rice, now working with Joseph Wright at the university of Pennsylvania, is apparent. Rice has always believed in the four-mile race and Columbia, where he formerly coached, has been strong for it.

So much has come out of New Haven concerning the dropping of Captain-Elect Bingham of the Yale football team for the scholastic deficiency that a word or two in Bingham's behalf can not be out of place.

First of all, the Yale alumni weekly reproachfully states that the marks after last football season showed that the young man was in danger of being dropped from college after the mid-winter tests.

"There was time enough to get up on his work so that he could pass the mid-year examinations."

Yes, there was time enough. But how about other elements involv 1? How about the boy's mental and physical condition. Throughout the season he had been one of the most important members of a team fighting to go through an undefeated season, a team that finally succeeded in this and in the course of the effort netted $214,946.-05 in financial returns.

The money thus earned makes possible the conduct without parsimony of an extensive and a complex intramural system of student exercise and the support of non-productive, intercollegiate sports. Had he sat on the bleachers and cheered with the other students and alumni Bingham probably would be in Yale today, doing very well indeed. But in serving his university on the athletic field he gave his very best and, in all probability, not being a brilliant scholar, he could not be a good student and an athlete engaged in providing for his college the sinews of war.

So out he goes with the remarks trailing after him that he "failed to appreciate his opportunities," that "his loyalty to his team mates was not sufficient to keep him out of the faculty tolls," and other Pharoasical repoaches.

Interclass Meet Won By Seniors at School

In the first interclass meet held at Glendale High, the seniors came out victorious with 57 points. The juniors rans a close second with 51 markers, while the freshmen beat the sophomores out for third, 12 points to 8. Coach Hayhurst discovered a host of good material in the interclass competition and expects to visibly strengthen his teams for the coming year with his many new finds.

DRIVERS PREPARE FOR SUNDAY RACE

Culver City Speed Merchants Start Practice Today For Coming Event

With the track repaired, oil removed and cars limbered up, the first practice spins for next Sunday's 250-mile race, which was interrupted by three wrecks last Sunday, will get under way today at the Culver City Speedway. The race was called off last Sunday at the end of twenty-five miles after Stuart Wilkinson's car had jammed under the top guard rail. Frank Elliott's mount had slapped the lower guard rail, and Doc Shattuc's mile-maker had imitated a bunch of Mexicans at their favorite pastime.

Wilkinson will not be in the race next Sunday as a couple of vertebrae were cracked when he backed into the top of the track. Elliott's car will be in shape and will be entered again, and Doc is getting a new frame, front axle, radiator, steering gear and three sets of springs put on his wrecked bus.

Cliff Durant, who failed to qualify for last week's speed bill, has announced he will be among those spinning next Sunday. Durant entered the car in which Wilkinson provided the thrills, but he will substitute his own personal mount and drive it himself, he says. Pete Kreis, kept out of the race last week by a broken crankshaft, has his Duesenberg all fixed up, and started running around the boards today.

Speedway officials have announced that ticket stubs for last week will be honored for next Sunday's event.

BOWLING SCORES

The Pacific Electrics won a close match from Harold Lloyd's bowlers last night at the Recreation alleys in a major league contest. The first game went to the trolleymen by a margin of sixty-one pins but the second and deciding game was won by only two pins. The third game went to the Hollywood pinshooters. Petersen of the winners rolled high score of 244 in the second game, and also copped high total, 203-244-225-672. The scores:

Challenge Priority Matter Undecided

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Question of the priority of the challenges of Harry Wills and Tom Gibbons for championship bouts with Jack Dempsey still was undecided at yesterday's meeting of the State Athletic commission, before which the challenges were formally filed by Wills and Gibbons.

George E. Brower, chairman of the commission, was indisposed, and although he attended the meeting he declared he did not feel equal to the discussion. He announced the matter would be decided next Tuesday. There is a possibility that neither challenge will be given preference, but Wills and Gibbons matched, the winner to meet Dempsey.

OAKS AT CAMP

MYRTLEDALE HOT SPRINGS, Cal., Feb. 25.—Thirty members of the Oakland baseball club, under the watchful care of Ivan Howard, their leader, are here today limbering up for the coming season. "Buzz" Arlett, hard-hitting Oak outfielder, is expected to join his mates tomorrow morning. The entire team will be gathered here by Friday at the latest, Howard said.

Sixth: That the work of laying and repairing such pipes or other appliances shall be conducted with the least possible hindrance to the use of said streets for the purpose of travel, and as soon as the laying or repairing of any pipes or appliances is completed, all portions of the streets which have been excavated or otherwise injured thereby shall be placed in as good condition as the same were before the laying of such pipes, and to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said City. That any damage or injury suffered by any person by reason of any excavation being improperly guarded during said work shall be borne by the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns.

Seventh: That the City of Glendale reserves the right to change the grade of any street or portion thereof over which said franchise shall be granted, and the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall at once change the location of all pipes and other appliances laid under said franchise, so as to conform to said change of grade. That if any portion of any of said streets shall be damaged by reason of leaks in any pipe laid under said franchise, the grantee of such franchise, his or its successors, shall at his, its or their expense, repair any such damage and put said street in as good condition as before such leak, to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said City.

Eighth: That if the grantee of said franchise, his, its or their successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with any of the written instructions of the City Council or the Street Superintendent of said City, with respect to the location of any portion of said system of pipes or pipe lines, or the repair of any damage to said streets or thoroughfares, within ten (10) days after the service of written notice upon said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns, requiring compliance therewith, then said City Council or Street Superintendent may immediately do whatever work is necessary to carry out said instructions at the cost and expense of said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns, which costs, by the acceptance of said franchise, said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns, agree to pay upon demand.

Ninth: That the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall, during the life of said franchise, pay to the City of Glendale, in lawful money of the United States, two per cent of the gross annual receipts of such grantee, its successors or assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise; provided, however, that no percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of this franchise.

It shall be the duty of the grantee of said franchise and its successors or assigns to file with the Clerk of the City of Glendale at the expiration of one year after said period of five (5) years, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter, a statement verified by the oath of said grantee or its successors or assigns, or by the oath of the manager or other authorized officer of said grantee, or its successors or assigns, showing in detail the total gross earnings collected or received by said grantee or its successors or assigns during the preceding twelve (12) months for the use, sale, rental or furnishing of manufactured and/or natural gas for light, heat, power or any other purpose whatsoever from any part of the system for the construction and operation of which said franchise is granted, and within ten (10) days after the time for filing the aforesaid statement it shall be the duty of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Glendale the aggregate sum of said percentage upon the amount of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, and if the amount paid is incorrect in the judgment of the City Council, it may order the payment of such additional sum as it may find due hereunder, and if not paid the same may be collected by suit. Any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee or its successors or assigns to file said verified statement or to pay said percentage of the said gross annual receipts at the time or in the manner hereinbefore provided shall work a forfeiture of said franchise and of all the rights thereunder to the City of Glendale.

Tenth: That whenever any portion of the territory covered by said franchise shall be annexed to or otherwise become a part of any other municipal corporation or of the County of Los Angeles, or any other county, the rights reserved under said franchise to the City of Glendale or any officer thereof shall inure to the benefit of such municipal corporation or county and its appropriate officers.

Eleventh: That the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall not sell, transfer or assign said franchise, or any of the rights or privileges granted thereby, except by a duly executed instrument in writing filed in the office of the Clerk of the City of Glendale and provided further, that nothing in said franchise contained shall be construed to grant to said grantee or its successors or assigns any right to sell, transfer or assign said franchise or any of the rights and privileges thereby granted, except in the manner aforesaid.

Twelfth: That any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of said franchise shall work a forfeiture thereof and the said City, by its City Council, may thereupon declare said franchise forfeited and may exclude said grantee or its successors or assigns from further use of the highways of said City under said franchise; and the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall thereupon on surrender, upon demand by appropriate instrument in writing, all rights in and to the same, and said franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null, void and of no effect.

The grant of said franchise shall be effective only upon the further condition that the grantee shall, at all times during the life of said franchise, keep on file with the City Council a bond running to said City of Glendale in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00), with at least two sureties to be approved by said City Council, conditioned upon said bidder well and truly observing, fulfilling and performing each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond the whole amount of the bond sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties on said bond; provided, however, that if said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside and the money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall be, in the discretion of the City Council, re-advertised and again offered for sale in the same manner and under the same restrictions as herein provided. If said bond be not so filed and kept on file, said franchise shall be void and of no effect, and any money paid therefor or thereunder shall be forfeited.

Said franchise shall be granted on the condition that all expenses of sale and of advertising said franchise shall be paid by the successful bidder, and unless so paid said franchise shall be forfeited.

NOTICE IS ALSO HEREBY GIVEN that sealed bids in writing will be received for said franchise up to ten o'clock a. m. on the 31st day of March, 1925, and at the time above mentioned, and in the Council room of the City Council of the City of Glendale, any and all sealed bids will be opened; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States, and that the said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who makes the highest cash bid therefor provided only that at the time of the opening of said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for said franchise or privilege a sum of not less than ten per cent (10%) above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent (10%) by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States by said City Council.

That each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the City of Glendale for the full amount of such bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit at least ten per cent (10%) of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of the City of Glendale before the franchise shall be struck off to him. If the successful bidder shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case his bid shall not be received and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent (10%) of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided.

That the successful bidder shall deposit with the Clerk of the City of Glendale within twenty-four (24) hours after the acceptance of his bid the remaining ninety per cent (90%) of the amount thereof, and, in case he or it shall fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made shall be forfeited and the said award of said franchise shall be void, and the said franchise shall then and there by said City Council, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor and be struck off, sold and awarded; and in case said party shall fail to deposit with the Clerk of the City of Glendale the remaining ninety per cent (90%) of his bid within twenty-four (24) hours after its acceptance, the award to it of said franchise shall be set aside and the deposit theretofore made by it shall be forfeited, and no further proceedings for a sale of said franchise shall be had, unless the same shall be re-advertised and again offered for sale in the manner hereinbefore provided.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the successful bidder for such franchise or privilege struck off, sold or awarded to him or it shall file, and keep on file, a bond running to the City of Glendale with at least two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said City Council, in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00), conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. Said bond shall be filed with said City Council within five (5) days after the said franchise is awarded, and upon the filing and approval of such bond, the said franchise shall by said City Council, be granted to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold or awarded, and in case said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside, and any money paid therefor shall be forfeited.

The City Council hereby expressly reserves the right to reject any or all bids for said franchise.

MR. AND MRS. PIANO BUYER

If my mother or sister, or dearest friend asked me to tell them what I considered the very best player piano on the market regardless of price and asked me to try to get one that was just a bit used that they could save a few dollars, I would tell them of a wonderful buy in a GULBRANSEN EXPRESSION PLAYER that I just took in exchange on a Grand. If you ever intend to own a truly fine player piano, THE BEST IN THE WORLD and nationally priced, come at once and see this one, hear it, play it, and you will soon own it, and thank me for telling you about this bargain. The price is RIGHT and you can have two or more years to pay, as you play.

"Appreciation"—there is nothing that spurs one on to greater effort than appreciation of past efforts. In consequence of that appreciation that was showered on us by our patrons for January's effort we have scoured the markets for "VALUES"—"ASTOUNDING VALUES"—for February's Dollar Day. And, as usual, "cash buying and cash selling" has made these values possible.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—With the exception of the railroad and the equipment stocks, which held most of their recent gains, and a few of the specialty stocks, reactionary conditions prevailed in the stock market today. Price changes were narrow and unimportant and were due mostly to the activities of professional traders, most of whom were opposed to further advance in prices.

Low priced rail stocks, furnished the principal rallying ground for the bulls. Norfolk-Southern, Chicago Great Western, New Haven and others of the speculative railroad shares were boosted in one or the other of the proposed consolidations of transportation systems.

Trading, however, dwindled to smaller proportions after the noon period.

Brisk forward movements in American Locomotive, Air Reduction, Radio corporation and a few of the specialties failed to bring any great response from outside traders. American Locomotive reached 134½, the highest since 1923, on rumors that after a special cash or stock dividend, the directors would place the common stock on an 8 per cent annual dividend basis.

The motor and oil stocks failed to rally and were reactionary from the start. General Motors continued to display the same weakness which has been in evidence since the stock was placed on a 6 per cent basis and sold at 73, a new low for the movement. Mack Trucks lost about 3 points and other motor shares were fractionally lower.

Forward movements in the tobacco stocks, some of the sugars and a small number of the specialties sent prices upward a point or so. But none of these movements attracted much attention and the pace of the market slackened as the day advanced. Call money ruled at 4 1-4 per cent and time money was firm.

Workmen Preparing Inside of Tent For Sciots' Wild West Show

The Big Top for the Million Dollar '49 party which will be staged by Glendale Pyramid of Sciots at Magnolia and Brand boulevards Friday and Saturday is up. A corps of workmen now are busy arranging the interior to accommodate the features of a California minjng camp which will be reproduced by the local organization and their Masonic friends of the San Fernando valley. Various kinds of entertainment will be provided. Toparch Robert E. Johnston announces a "'49" parade Thursday and Friday afternoon through the main streets. The parade will be led by the Sciots' band, featured by a wild west stage coach, cowboys on horseback and steer ropers.
